Giving Colleges Permission to Use my Work

I hereby grant Olympic College permission to reproduce and distribute my work on a royalty-free basis for educational purposes and public communication.

Marking my Work with an Open License (Optional)

By officially marking your work with an open license, you are granting some rights in advance to the public to use your work so that they do not need to contact you to obtain your permission. The users are still required to make a proper attribution to you citing your name, and you are not losing your copyright as an author. This is optional and you do not have to select any of the options below, but openly licensing the work does help promote the educational usage of your work.

I release my works under the terms of any of the Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial licenses 4.0. This means that I retain the copyright, but the public may freely copy, modify, and share my works for non-commercial purposes, as long as they credit me for the original creation.

I release my works under the terms of any of the Creative Commons Attribution licenses 4.0. This means that I retain the copyright, but the public may freely copy, modify, and share my works even commercially, as long as they credit you for the original creation.

I, _____(name) hold the copyright of this material and agree to the terms of this form where I have initialed.
