A. New Business –

- Outdoor and Wildlife Club: There's about 20 students in the club but they would like to have materials to lend out to students. There's concerns that this needs to be vetted through Damon Bell. Any club with a high risk need to now be vetted. Anything that pertains to high risk of student needs to go through him. This decision is made with the contingency that Damon Bell has to approve it. He understands that his advisor has to attend the meetings. They are asking for the equipment just to have. Student purchased equipment would allow all students to use it
The approval of these funds are contingent of getting approval from Damon Bell and Faviola Barbosa.

$2,500 5 camping packs.

- Unmanned Aerial Vehicle: The UAV will be turbine powered. It will be 5x3ft. They have to contact Guinness book of world record. They have not considered contingencies for any failures. They are hoping only the cheaper composite material will be ruined. They are going to do tons of testing without flight. They plan to use water to simulate drag. Most of the group will be available for the two-year plan. They have a time line. We would like to have their timeline and plan. This project has a bunch of levels to it. It is a significant undertaking and they have the level of commitment needed to have it keep going. They have already put a lot of money in support of this project. They are concerned that having to get funding from other places and if it slows them down. Douglas Beck will be the advisor long term. They are trying to get the Engineering club in as well.

$3,900 for UAV
