Next Step Scholarship Application 2022-2023

- Improve the quality of the South Puget Sound regional workforce
- Strengthen the bonds between UW Tacoma and its primary transfer institutions
- Improve the classroom experience for all UW Tacoma students

Seven scholarships are available, one for each community college. The scholarship is primarily intended to help students pursue their degrees as full-time students. Part-time students may use their scholarship award over at most a three-year period.

Deadline

Check with your community college advisor for your school's application deadline.

Eligibility

Students currently enrolled at the following community colleges are eligible to be considered for a UW Tacoma Next Step Scholars award:

- Green River Community College
- Highline Community College
- Olympic College
- Pierce College Fort Steilacoom
- Pierce College Puyallup
- South Puget Sound Community College
- Tacoma Community College

Recent graduates from these institutions may also be eligible; however, they must have completed their coursework no earlier than September 1, 2021. Recent graduates who are already attending other four-year institutions are not eligible for the award. One student from each institution will be offered a Next Step Scholarship each year.

Students must be permanent Washington residents; international students are not eligible for this scholarship.

There is a strong expectation that the student will have completed the necessary credits and other requirements, to be admitted to, UW Tacoma for autumn quarter 2022 to complete their baccalaureate degree. Should a prospective student accept the scholarship and then not qualify for transfer or enrollment, the award will be withdrawn and may go unfilled that year. The student should also currently post a cummulative grade-point average (GPA) of no less than 3.5 (rare exceptions may be made for students who can show exceptional improvement over their last 45 credits).

To be eligible, students must be pursuing their first baccalaureate degree, having earned a high school diploma (or equivalent) and subsequently enrolled in community college. Those who have already have earned a bachelor's degree, or are pursuing graduate study, will not be considered for this scholarship.

If a student is selected, he or she has three weeks to decide whether to accept the award. UW Tacoma reserves the right to offer the scholarship to other nominees should the first winner decline.

Nomination and Application Procedures/Selection Criteria

Part I: Presidential Nomination

Community college presidents (or their official designees) are encouraged to submit at least two but no more than three nominations from their campus. In selecting the nominees, presidents should consider the following criteria in making final selections. Criteria will include: GPA, strength of coursework, writing ability/ participation in honors programs, academic enrichment, demonstrated leadership and community service, and faculty recommendations.

As part of the nomination procedure, community college presidents must sign the nomination and eligibility form. Because GPA and strength of coursework will be given exceptional weight, careful review of student transcripts is highly recommended.

Part II: Letters of Recommendation from Faculty

One letter of recommendation is required. Faculty members with whom the student has had direct academic contact should complete the letters. Letters should focus on academic merit detailing classroom experience or other activities that illustrate academic accomplishments. Letters may also discuss leadership, service or personal integrity. Students are responsible for securing letters of recommendation.

Part III: Student Application Materials

Students must complete the biographical information and release authorization form and the honors, awards, memberships, enrichment activities, leadership, and community service form (if applicable), and secure one letter of recommendation from faculty (see above). Students will need to submit official transcripts from their nominating community colleges, along with the other application materials, if these transcripts have not been previously obtained by the nominating institution.

Part IV: Personal Interview

Finalists may be interviewed by the UW Tacoma Next Step Scholars Selection Committee.

Award Acceptance Policy

The participating community colleges will each forward up to three nominees to UW Tacoma by April 10, 2022. UW Tacoma will notify the recipient(s) by May 15, 2022.

Winners of Next Step Scholars awards must inform UW Tacoma of their intention to accept or decline the award in writing by returning a Next Step Scholars Award Acceptance Form within three weeks of being notified. Should a student decline the award, UW Tacoma reserves the right to offer the award to another nominee from the institution's pool. In the event that a student formally accepts the award and then elects not to enroll at UW Tacoma in autumn quarter 2022, the scholarship may go unfilled for that academic year. Exceptions may be made for students who can show that non-enrollment results from hardship or other circumstances beyond their control. Hardship exceptions will normally be granted for one quarter only.

Next Step recipients must also agree to have their names released publicly and to participate willingly in academic ceremonies such as commencement and in donor stewardship activities, which may involve writing letters, attending events, etc.

Scholarship Renewal Criteria

The Next Step Scholarship for the 2022-23 academic year is a one-year scholarship. If additional funds are available students may qualify for the second year of the scholarship, students must show satisfactory progress toward a degree by meeting the following minimum requirements:

- Maintain a cumulative UW Tacoma GPA of at least 3.00
- Be consecutively enrolled each quarter (not including summer quarter)
