Fall Orientation Week

For Fall 2017, Office of International Education welcomed 44 new students from 12 different countries. Orientation started with introducing office assistants and peer mentors to new students. Our assistant director Akiko talked about importance of educational planning and an academic path that can help students achieve what they want. Students also participated in campus tour and learned more about computer lab, class location and tutoring center. Additionally, students learned information about making a bus pass, opening a bank account, health insurance and other related local resources for their study at OC.

We invited Mr. Walkup, the Director of Campus Safety, to give a presentation about services provided for students such as vehicle unlock, lock cutting and emergency reporting. Jodie from Multicultural Services Center shared her experience of studying in an unfamiliar environment and adjusting cultural differences. On the last day of orientation, students were divided into four groups to explore fun places in Seattle which helped them to get to know new friends, and be more comfortable around Bremerton and Seattle area.

We are very happy to have them study at OC. We wish them the best of luck in all of their future endeavors. -Haopung-
